

We are an eclectic mix of artistic mediums presented to you daily by one of our local artists. We hold our members opinions high when we are considering or jurying new members meaning we have limits to how many of similar mediums or creations we have in house. There is a no exclusivity clause because we want to support you in your other artistic ventures and venues; we hope you will share our shop the same. There is one caveat to the no exclusivity and that is members must not sell in any other shop or business within the historic district of La Conner for competition purposes.

Our online application can be found at www.LaConnerArtistsGallery.com/application If you are interested, please submit a completed application for jury.
